Feb 1th, 2024Exploring Why Maritime? Maritime Seven Good Reasons Careers2. Growing Job Market. Thanks To Increasing International Trade, Maritime

Employment Is Expected To Grow. 3. An Aging Workforce. The Maritime Industry Will Need Workers To Replace Those Who Are Nearing Retirement. For Example, In 2009, The Average Age Of All Chief Marine Officers Was 51.5 Years Old. In 2024, The Average Age Is Expected To Be 55.5 Years Old. This Is A Concern Because It Means There Will Be A Shortage Of Experienced Workers In The Future. The International Maritime Organization (IMO) Has Identified This As One Of The Major Challenges Facing The Maritime Industry. The IMO Secretary-General, Akiyoshi Nishimura, Said At A Meeting In London In 2023, 'The Maritime Industry Is Facing A Significant Challenge In Terms Of Workforce Sustainability. The Average Age Of Seafarers Is Increasing, And This Could Lead To A Shortage Of Skilled Workers In The Future. We Need To Take Action Now To Address This Issue. This Includes Encouraging Young People To Enter The Industry, Providing Training And Education Opportunities, And Promoting Work-Life Balance For Seafarers. We Also Need To Focus On Improving Working Conditions And Safety On Board Ships. These Are All Key Areas Where We Can Make A Difference. The IMO Will Continue To Work Closely With Member States And Industry Stakeholders To Develop Solutions That Address These Challenges. We Are Committed To Ensuring A Sustainable And Resilient Maritime Industry For The Future.'
